

Safe, peaceful and well-serviced campsite available to hire for charities and registered groups at very reasonable rates

Linkenholt, near Andover, Hampshire

Linkenholt Countryside Adventure is situated within the 2000 acres of unspoilt, varied habitat estate, set where the Hampshire, Berkshire and Wiltshire borders meet, in the small village of Linkenholt, near Andover. The site offers enormous scope and opportunity.

“Linkenholt Countryside Adventure is an absolute gem of a find. An activity centre that allows you to use your imagination, to be adventurous, to explore and to feel free.”

At Linkenholt Adventure Centre, it's easy to set your imagination alight and get caught up in the freedom and fun of the outdoor environment. Whether at 'base camp', around the campfire, or out in the open air, the site offers a wide variety of open spaces perfect for taking part in activities like orienteering, mountain biking, nature walks, and team building activities. Visitors can embrace the exciting and often unexpected opportunities presented by nature itself.

NEW In partnership with Oxenwood Outdoor Education, we can now offer a range of supported activities for your group including archery, orienteering, den building, and the mini Olympics. For scouts, guides, army cadets, youth groups and schools – it's perfect; the site also has plenty to offer charitable and corporate entities.

The site is owned the Blagrove Trust and run by Releasing Potential.

To Book

Phone 023 9247 9762

Email linkenholt@releasingpotential.com

<http://www.releasingpotential.com/outdooreducation/linkenholt>

Releasing Potential is a Hampshire based educational charity. With 15 years' experience of working in the outdoors we are pleased to manage the opportunities the centre can offer for young people to access and learn about the countryside.

The Blagrove Trust Charity registration number. 1164021

